

Free All India Scholarship Test for GPAT 2010

Gateforum is organizing an All India Free Scholarship Test for the aspirants of GPAT (Graduate Pharmacy Admission Test) on March 7th, 2010 in over 40 cities across the country.

Pune, Maharashtra, March 1, 2010 /India PRwire/ -- The Graduate Pharmacy Aptitude Test (GPAT 2010) is being conducted for the first time, under the aegis of National Monitoring Committee, All India Council for Technical Education, New Delhi by The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara. Persons who are holding Bachelor's degree in Pharmacy / in Final Year of B.Pharm / Completed B.Pharm degree after lateral entry into B.Pharm after D.Pharmacy are eligible to appear for GPAT 2010.

Admission to M.Pharm Courses in Pharmacy colleges all over India will be given based on the performance in GPAT. And only GPAT qualified students will be eligible for the stipend in M.Pharm. Earlier admission and stipend were given based on the GATE exam in Pharmacy. But from 2010 onwards, GATE is not being conducted for Pharmacy students and it has been replaced by GPAT.

The free scholarship Test for GPAT will be conducted in the pattern of The GPAT-2010 question paper and will consist of one hundred (100 No.) multiple choice objective questions for 100 marks with every wrong answer getting 1/3 negative marks. The type of questions asked in this examination would be to evaluate a candidate's aptitude and subject knowledge of Pharmacy field which may involve basic principles, facts, formulae/laws, understanding of the fundamental ideas, and application or drawing observations of the fundamentals of pharmacy discipline.

By taking this test the aspirants of GPAT will be able to evaluate their performance by comparing themselves with students from all over India (40 cities). The results of the test in terms of All India Rank and Percentile Score will be available on the website www.gateforum.com. The students will also be able to evaluate their performance in each topic of the test through the section wise comparative analysis, which is provided along with the test results. The top three rankers in each city would be given 50%, 30% and 20% scholarship respectively for any of the Gateforum packages - Classroom Coaching (available in select cities), eTutor (online coaching), Correspondence Course, All India Test Series and Online Test Series. More than 100 scholarships are available across India based on the March 7th test.

In Pune the scholarship test by Gateforum will be conducted at College of Engineering Pune (COEP), E & TC Dept., Shivajinagar, Pune at 9.30 AM on 7th March, 2009. For further information, contact on phone: 9561133868 or check the website www.gateforum.com

Notes to Editor

Gateforum, promoted by alumni of IIMs and IITs, is the leader in GATE preparation in India. In GATE 2009, 9 of the Gateforum students obtained top 10 ranks and 126 students captured top 100 ranks. In GATE 2007 when Pharmacy was part of GATE, a Gateforum student achieved All India Rank 1 in Pharmacy. Currently Gateforum offers various preparatory tools for GATE & GPAT aspirants including Classroom Coaching, eTutor-online coaching, correspondence course and All India Test Series. The details are available at www.gateforum.com.

For more information, please contact:

Sunder Iyer

Director

(L) 02025461155