

Capgemini - techno india 25th august 2012

Rated : +114 , -14

1st round: - Aptitude test conducted by co-cubes. Quantitative part and logical reasoning is really tough. they have cut-offs on each section. to qualify u have to clear the cut offs of each section.

2nd round: - GD. my topic was should India focus on the current games that India is participating in Olympics 2012 or India should focus on different games also.

3rd round: - Personal interview. The interviewer asked me basic HR questions and 1 or 2 questions regarding my project. This was my 14th interview and i finally cracked it. it took the test of your patience. i know the joy of selected and also the pain of being rejected. but finally i got selected. out 4500 students only 116 were selected and i am one of them. so dont lose your hope. keep trying. success is knocking at your door.
