

B. Tech Degree VIII Semester (Supplementary)
Examination, September 2008

CE 804 (D) INTERIOR DESIGN
(1999 Scheme)

Time : 3 Hours

Maximum Marks : 100

(All questions carry EQUAL marks)

I. What elements require buffer space? What is the difference between emptiness and spaciousness? What is a comfortable relation between the volume of enclosed space and the objects to make it habitable?

OR

II. What is meant by psychological effect of space? Give examples and explain. Discuss the advantages of achieving psychological effects in the interior spaces.

III. If you are asked to design a waiting room for 25 people in a doctor's clinic, how would you determine the criteria for the design of the interior space of this waiting room

OR

IV. What kind of colours, textures and lighting would you propose for a restaurant of a 5 star hotel?

V. Furniture lay out and activity pattern have a two-way relationship with each other. Discuss this statement citing examples from a residential interior and the interior of a public building.

OR

VI. A work counter in a library is to be designed for the purpose of issuing and receiving books. Explain the design criteria you would adopt, the material you would select and the form you would suggest citing reasons.

VII. Classify the decorative finishes available in India based on their method of application. Discuss the use and advantages of each group of decorative finishes in commercial building with examples.

OR

VIII. Describe in detail the special structural forms involved in creating emphasis in the interior space.

