INSTRUCTIONS

- Before encoding the Question Booklet version code in the OMR sheet, you should check that this Question Booklet does NOT have any unprinted or torn or missing pages or questions etc. If so, get it replaced by a complete 'Question Booklet' of the available series.
- Write and encode clearly the Question Booklet Version Code A, B, C, D or H, as the case may be, in the appropriate space provided for the purpose, in the OMR Answer Sheet.
- You have to enter your Register Number in the Question Booklet in the box provided alongside.
 DO NOT write anything else on the Question Booklet.

Register Number

- 4. This Question Booklet contains 100 questions. Each question contains four responses (answers). Select the response which you want to mark on the Answer Sheet. In case you feel that there is more than one correct response, mark the response which you consider the best. In any case, choose ONLY ONE ANSWER for each question.
- All the responses should be marked ONLY on the separate Answer Sheet provided and ONLY in Black or Blue Ballpoint Pen. See instructions in the Answer Sheet.
- All questions carry equal marks. Attempt all questions. Your total marks will depend only on the number of correct responses marked by you in the Answer Sheet.
- Before proceeding to mark the responses in the Answer Sheet, you have to write and encode particulars regarding Register Number, Question Booklet Version Code etc., (along with your signature and Invigilator's signature) in the space provided for in the Answer Sheet.
- Sheets for rough work are appended in the Question Booklet at the end. You should not make any marking on any other part of the Question Booklet.
- Immediately after the final bell indicating the conclusion of the examination, stop making any further markings in the Answer Sheet. Be seated till the Answer Sheets are collected and accounted for by the Invigilator.

Religion is a cultural system that creates powerful and long-lasting establishing meaning. by symbols that relate humanity to and values. beliefs Many have religions narratives. symbols, traditions and sacred histories that are intended to give meaning to life or to explain the origin of life or the universe. They tend to derive morality, ethics, religious laws or a preferred lifestyle from their ideas about the cosmos and human nature.

The word religion is sometimes used interchangeably with faith or belief system, but religion differs from private belief in that it has a public aspect. Most religions have organized behaviours, including clerical hierarchies, a definition of what adherence constitutes membership, congregations of laity, regular meetings services for the purposes of veneration of a deity or for prayer, holy places (either natural or architectural), and/or scriptures. The practice of a also include may sermons, commemoration of the activities of a God or Gods. festivals, sacrifices, feasts. trance. initiations. funerary services, matrimonial services, meditation, music, art, dance, public service, or other aspects of human culture.

The development of religion has taken different forms in different cultures. Some religions place an emphasis on belief, while others emphasize practice. Some religions focus on the subjective experience of the religious individual, while others consider the activities of the religious community be most to important. Some religions claim to be universal, believing their laws and cosmology to be binding for everyone, while others are intended to practiced only by a closely defined or localized group. In many places religion has been associated with public institutions such as education, hospitals, the family, political Government and hierarchies.

Some academics studying the subject have divided religions into three broad categories: world religions, a term which refers to transcultural. international faiths; indigenous which religions, refers smaller. culture-specific or nation-specific religious groups; and new religious movements, which refers to recently developed faiths. One modern academic theory of religion, social constructionism, says that religion is a modern concept that suggests all spiritual practice and worship follows a model similar to Christianity, and thus religion, as a concept, has been applied inappropriately to non-Western cultures.
