INTRODUCTION

The University of Delhi was incorporated as a unitary teaching and residential University by an Act of Central Legislature in 1922. In 1933 an important step was taken towards the development of the University when the old Vice Regal Lodge with its extensive gardens was made available to the University. Sites were then offered to the constituent colleges on certain conditions. In 1943 the University was given a federal structure with the colleges as its constituent units. In 1953, a distinction was introduced between 'constituent' and 'affiliated' colleges, the former being those which were allowed to organize both Pass and Honours Courses at the under-graduate level and the latter being those which were permitted to organize instructions only for the Pass Courses. The present arrangement is that almost all the under -graduate teaching is done in the colleges, while the University organizes post-graduate teaching and research with its own staff. The staff appointed in the colleges, are also associated under co-operative teaching scheme.

The President of India is the Visitor, the Vice-President of India is the Chancellor and the Chief Justice of India is the Pro-Chancellor of this University. Prof. Dinesh Singh, an eminent Mathematician, is the Vice-Chancellor of the University since October 29th, 2010.

The University enclave covers an area around 700 acres. There has been a considerable increase in student enrolment in recent years. The number of students on roll (including those taking, correspondence courses) at present is approximately 4,50,000 as compared to 27,905, in August 1964, in 103 Colleges and Institutions, 86 Post-graduate Departments and 16 Faculties.

In an effort to cope with this enormous expansion, while continuing to maintain its high academic standards, the University initiated in the early seventies a new organizational pattern based on concept of a multi-campus institution.

Students coming to India should have enough money to cover all the expenses of fee including boarding & lodging.

STUDENT LIFE

At present, from 70-80 different countries about 1500 foreign students are enrolled in the University. Indian students are generally friendly and informal and therefore foreign students do not face difficulty in adjusting with student community.

W.U.S. HEALTH CENTRE

All the resident students in the University Campus are registered with the Health Center, which functions from 9:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M. without break to attend to all routine cases. For emergencies, the Main Health Center is open during night. The facilities at health center are adequate. The Center has also an Eye Clinic, Dental Clinic, E.N.T. Clinic and X-Ray Unit. Besides the Health Center in the Main Campus, some medical facilities are also available in South Campus.

CLIMATE AND CLOTHING

The University Campus is situated in the northern part of the Delhi city adjoining the ridge. Delhi is located 700 feet above the sea level. Delhi has extreme climate conditions. The temperature varies from 5⁰C during winters (November-February) and up to 45⁰C during summers (May- July). Students, therefore, require warm winter clothing as well as light summer clothing.

ASSISTANCE ON ARRIVAL

Before leaving for India, students may write to the Indian Council for Cultural Relations, Azad Bhawan, Indraprastha Estate, New Delhi-110002 (Telegraphic Address: CULTURE NEW DELHI-2) whose representatives will do their best to meet them on arrival. Students arriving by Air are advised to take the Airline Coach to the City Booking office of the Airline concerned from where the taxi fare to the University Campus is about Rs. 600. Students can also travel from International Airport to Inter-State Bus Terminal by bus paying Rs. 150 and from there to DU Campus by taxi (Rs. 300). It is better to use public transport including metro which is economical.
